Advancement has also been made in marketing. Since 1920 several groups of cooperative marketing organizations have been established. Among them are: the Utah Poultry Producers Cooperative, the Sugar Beet Growers, the Utah Dairymen, the Northwestern Turkey Growers, the Utah Wool Growers, and the Utah Horse and Cattle Growers.

DRY FARMING

The first attempt at dry farming in Utah was in 1863, near Bear River City. The farmers found their land so filled with alkali that the growth of crops was impossible. In desperation they plowed and seeded the dry land above the canal. The grain ripened in the fall, giving them a bounteous harvest.

However, this successful experiment did not prove to the people of Utah that dry farming could be carried on. Years passed before this method of agriculture became
